The Six Step Program for Parents and Teachers, 3rd Edition is a comprehensive guide to helping children with ADHD thrive.

This groundbreaking program has helped thousands of children with ADHD achieve success in school and life. The six steps are:

1. Establish a consistent routine. Children with ADHD need structure and predictability to help them stay on track. A consistent routine can help them learn to manage their time and stay organized.
2. Set clear expectations. Children with ADHD need to know what is expected of them. Clear expectations can help them understand what is acceptable and unacceptable behavior.
3. Provide positive reinforcement. Children with ADHD need to be praised for their effort and accomplishments. Positive reinforcement can help them build self-esteem and motivation.
4. Discipline in a positive way. Discipline should be fair, consistent, and age-appropriate. Positive discipline can help children with ADHD learn from their mistakes and develop self-control.

5. Collaborate with the school. Parents and teachers need to work together to create a supportive learning environment for children with ADHD. Collaboration can help children get the services and accommodations they need to succeed.
6. Take care of yourself. Parenting a child with ADHD can be challenging. It is important for parents to take care of themselves physically and emotionally. Taking care of yourself can help you be a more effective parent and role model for your child.

The Six Step Program for Parents and Teachers, 3rd Edition is a valuable resource for parents and teachers of children with ADHD. This program has helped thousands of children with ADHD achieve success in school and life.
